How to 'Ghost Mode' on Snapchat

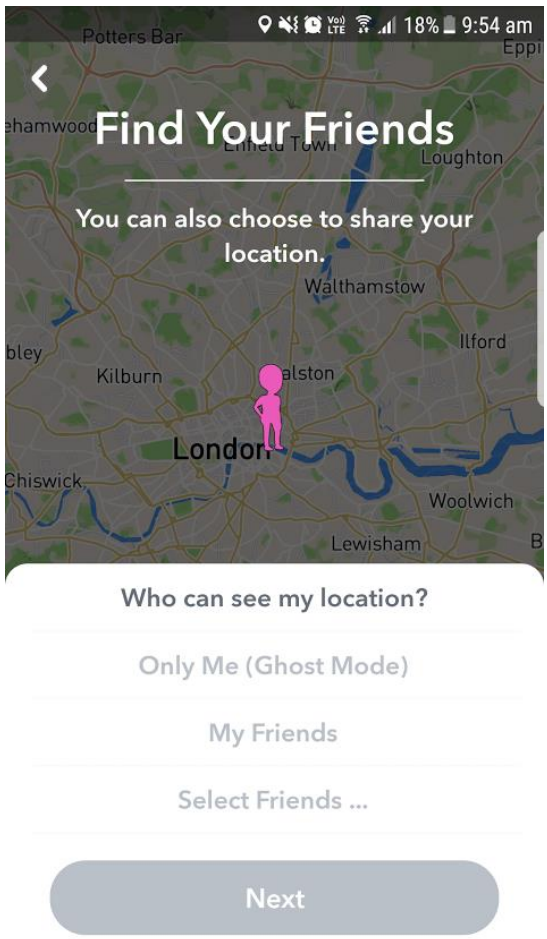
The Snap Map feature can detect someone's location so accurately that it reveals not only where they are with accuracy to the nearest building but also what part of a building they are in.
It can also tell whether users are listening to music or driving a car.

1. Go onto the selfie screen and pinch fingers together to zoom out.

2. When you first load up Snap Map, there will be a cog in the top right hand corner.

3. Click this.

4. Slide 'Ghost Mode" on.

5. If you have completed this successfully the "Who can see my location?" will be greyed out.


However, the NSPCC said this option did not guarantee safety.
